

Matthew J. Rupp
Counselor to the Inspector General

Matthew J. Rupp joined the Office of Inspector General in April 2003. Prior to his tenure with the Office, Mr. Rupp served as counsel to the United States House of Representatives Committee on Government Reform. With the Committee on Government Reform, Mr. Rupp conducted congressional investigations and oversight of the executive branch.

Mr. Rupp graduated cum laude from the University of Notre Dame in 1996 with a bachelor's degree in Government and International Studies. In 2001, he received his Juris Doctor degree from Duke University School of Law, and is admitted to the North Carolina bar. Before attending law school, Mr. Rupp worked for former United States Senator Jesse Helms.